

Review

In the At the Movies series this Spring, we will be reviewing six movies. Each week's movie will bring current life circumstances to light that you or others you know may be facing.

Below is a list of discussion questions that can be used for each of the movie themes.

As you begin the series, grab some friends and go through the questions together each week. If you are already in a group, this is a great resource to use for discussion the next six weeks. Begin each week with a quick check in to see how everyone is doing. Starting your discussion with an ice breaker each week is a great way to get the conversation going.

Read

In this week's movie, what situations brought decisions in a character's actions that may or may not have been inspired by scripture?

If someone references a scripture, take the time to read it aloud and share why that particular scripture came to mind.

Are there other scriptural themes or stories that seemed similar to what the main character faced in this movie?

Reflect

Here are some thoughtful questions to consider. Some may be more relevant than others depending on the direction of the movie.

- What character(s) did you relate to in the movie? And why?
- Were there any challenges that a character(s) faced that reminded you of a similar challenge that you may have faced?
- Did that character respond to a challenge in a way that was surprising to you? Why or why not?
- What is something that surprised you about the movie? And why?
- What is the main idea that the movie is trying to convey?
- Did this movie cause you to view something through a different lens than you have in the past?
- What emotions rose to the surface for you as a result of viewing this movie?

Reach

Each week's movie may create an opportunity for action in either your own life or the life of someone you love.

- Share something actionable that you could see yourself doing as a result of this movie.
- Is there a way that you can explore opportunities to serve as a result of this movie?
- Is there someone that you've thought about inviting to your group, that now may seem like the right time? If you are not currently in a group, maybe it's the right time for you.
- What story in scripture will I revisit this week?
